An Overview of St. Maarten

The divided status of St. Martin/St. Maarten is a result of the colonial tug-of-war between European powers in the Caribbean. The island was inhabited well before Europeans arrived. An archaeological dig in St. Martin has unearthed tools and pottery from Amerindian settlers that have been dated to 550 BC. The fierce and cannibalistic Caribs had taken over the island when Columbus landed on it in 1493. As a result, the Spanish never developed the island after claiming it. Dutch settlers arrived in the early 1600s. Thereafter, every colonial power active in the Americas owned a piece of the island at one point or another. Legend has it that a Frenchman and a Dutchman finally settled an argument over territorial rights by pacing off their shares. Of the 37 square miles/ 96 square kilometers, the French got the bigger slice, but the Dutch got the most valuable real estate: the Salt Pond and the harbor. The international airport is also on the Dutch side. The 1648 Treaty of Concordia marked the formal division of land. The Dutch part of the island is administered from Curaçao as is the rest of the Netherlands Antilles, while the French part is administered from Guadeloupe.

The capital of Sint Maarten is Phillipsburg and Saint Martin's capital is Marigot. The island lies 144 miles east of Puerto Rico. Cone shaped hills with coarse grass and scrub palms dominate the landscape. The coastline zigzags, which makes for some lovely coves of white sand beaches.

Docking/Anchorage:

The Ship docks at the new A.C.Wathey pier in Phillipsburg.
