ALASKA 2011

From the President:

Welcome to the fall issue of Castaway Club Compass. We have some very exciting upcoming plans at Disney Cruise Line!

We just announced that Disney Wonder® will sail to Alaska for the very first time in 2011. This itinerary is one that Guests have been requesting for years, and our Crew can't wait to introduce you to the adventurous ports and picturesque landscape that is Alaska.

Also, there will be sailings to the Mediterranean and to Northern European Capitals next year. And of course, the Disney Dream and her sister ship, Disney Fantasy, are well on their way to becoming a reality.

And in this issue, you'll find that we are enhancing the Castaway Club program to more effectively recognize our past Guests based on the number of times you have sailed with us.

Again welcome to this issue of the Castaway Club Compass. I hope you enjoy it and that you will sail with us again in the near future.

Sincerely,

Karl L. Holz
President, Disney Cruise Line

Destination: Alaska 2011

Disney Wonder® to set sail from Vancouver

The beautiful green forests. The majestic glaciers. The cry of the eagle as it flies over a stream. Alaska is known for its snow-capped scenery, ice and wildlife, and this new addition to our itinerary brings you and your family past the unspoiled beauty that only Alaska has.

Setting sail from Vancouver, Canada, Disney Cruise Line® will offer a 7-night cruise to four beautiful Alaskan destinations. First, you'll cruise into the small-town charm and natural beauty of Juneau. Who knows, you may even see a whale or two! Next you'll travel past fjords and into the city known as "The Salmon Capital of the World," Ketchikan.

Skagway is the next stop on your cruise. The gateway to the Klondike Gold Rush, Skagway is steeped, literally, in history by the mountains that surround it. And you'll travel through the Tongass National Forest, taking in the waterfalls and melting snowcaps of the Tracy Arm Fjord.

This new cruise will be available May 3–September 6, 2011. Be sure and make your family plans to visit Alaska with Disney Cruise Line!
