LONDON, 31 MAY: The shortlist for the prestigious Cruise International Awards 2017 has been revealed, with voting open now until August 18.

Editor of Cruise International Liz Jarvis said: "We had a record number of nominations this year and the shortlist represents the cremè de la cremè of the cruise industry.

"There are some really hotly contested categories in this year's awards, particularly Best New Ship, Best Cruise Agent and of course the Best Cruise Line categories. Cruise holidays are the best way to explore the world and the Cruise International Awards 2017 are a unique benchmark of consumer opinion.

"The Cruise Awards are also an incredibly valuable resource for first-time cruisers, because they showcase the very best in the business, enabling them to make informed decisions when they're choosing and booking a cruise holiday."

The Cruise International Awards 2017 will take place at a prestigious London venue in September. The awards are supported by (<http://awards.cruise-international.com/supported-by/>) the Cruise Lines International Association (CLIA), Avalon Waterways, Saga Cruises, Silversea Cruises, Voyages to Antiquity, Titan Travel, Bric's Luxury Italian Luggage, SeaDream Yacht Club and the Cruise Show.

Cruise fans can vote for their favourite cruise lines, cruise agents, ships, destinations, holiday add-ons and bloggers at cruise-international.com/awards (<http://awards.cruise-international.com>).

Everyone who votes this year has the opportunity to be entered into a prize draw to win a luxury Caribbean or Mediterranean cruise.
