Welcome to Santorini, Greece

Santorini is one of the Cyclades Islands in the southern Aegean Sea, about 120 miles southeast from Greece's mainland. The island of Santorini was formed in 1450 BC after a volcanic eruption that created the spectacular crescent shape (the caldera).

Ships anchor off of Athinios, which is about 900 feet below the island capital of Fira which overlooks the caldera and the nearby uninhabited island of Nea Kameni. The town of Fira is the largest community on the island with a population of nearly 2,000.
