REYKJAVIK OVERVIEW

The world's northernmost capital, the city of Reykjavik is known not only for its summers of around the clock daylight but also for its rich cultural scene and surrounding natural beauty that ranges from black sands to white glaciers. Steam from the area's many geothermic formations (hot springs that today are a top attraction) gave the city its name; translated, Reykjavik means "Smoky Bay."

Reykjavik is a modern city tucked between Mount Esja and the Faxaflói Bay. The hot springs that surround the city have given Reykjavik a unique resource of geothermal energy and most houses are powered by this resource.

Icelandic designs take their inspiration from the sea, waters that are normally too cold for swimming any time of the year. Reykjavik has harnessed its thermal waters to create a beach: Nautholsvík. Here naturally hot waters flow into an area lined by a sand beach. Other geothermal options include geothermal pools and spas that utilize the heated waters as well as local volcanic muds and Blue Lagoon, one of Iceland's top attractions thanks to its geothermal seawater.

- Be aware of your surroundings at all times. Avoid short cuts, narrow alleys and poorly lit streets.
- Avoid wandering from the main shopping and tourist areas into unfamiliar territory. If venturing out independently, have a plan, use only licensed taxi operators.
- Identity/Credit Card theft can occur anywhere. Please remain vigilant in monitoring the safe keeping of your personal information.
- Leave valuables in your room safe and avoid carrying large amounts of cash. Exercise caution when using ATMs. Cameras and handbags should be carried close to your body or concealed out of sight.
- Leave air transportation tickets and other travel documents in your room safe. When going ashore, each adult is required to carry a Driver's license, passport or other government-issued photo ID. – Note: Some ports may require Guests to carry passports ashore.
- Most crimes are easier to commit in dark unlit areas. When going ashore at night, please be extra vigilant about your personal safety.
