

October 3-7, 2016 - Disney Dream Returning Port Canaveral Day Late
Shipboard Letter Regarding One-Day Extension:

Dear Guests,

We want to take this opportunity to provide you with an update on our itinerary.

The latest reports from the National Weather Service and National Hurricane Center indicate Hurricane Matthew is likely to move along parts of the Florida coastline beginning tomorrow. As a result, Port Canaveral will not be available for our scheduled arrival on Friday morning and it is necessary for us to extend our sailing an additional day. We are now planning to disembark in Port Canaveral on Saturday once the Coast Guard has determined that the port is safe for cruise ship operations.

Guests with Disney Cruise Line air arrangements will have their revised itinerary delivered to their stateroom. Guests who have made their own flight arrangements are encouraged to contact their air carrier to reschedule their flights for Saturday evening. At this time, Orlando International Airport is not expected to be operational Friday so there will likely be increased call volume at the airlines. Please contact Guest Services if you need assistance.

As of right now, we anticipate arriving in Port Canaveral late on Saturday afternoon. Our Express Walk-off option will be available. Guests planning to exit during this time should plan to walk-off with their luggage and should not place their luggage outside of their staterooms Friday evening.

We know this change may be an inconvenience, and hope you understand that while we always strive to deliver magical cruise vacations, nothing is more important to us than providing a safe experience for our guests and crew. Please know that we are here to assist in any way we can and appreciate your patience.

As a reminder, we have made arrangements to visit Costa Maya tomorrow for your enjoyment. We hope you continue to enjoy your time aboard the ship and encourage you to visit our Guest Services Desk with any questions or concerns.

We appreciate you sailing with us this week and truly hope you'll sail with us again in the future.
