RSP FAQ

What does RSP mean?
RSP stands for the Random Selection Process, a computer program designed to assign the opportunity to purchase certain limited edition and/or merchandise limited in quantity to Guest (s) based on the Guest's stated preferences.

How does RSP work?
The RSP program will run on the days following the May 22, 2022 deadline and will start with the first item listed in the catalog and move sequentially through the list of available items. It gathers the names of all the Guests that rank item #1 as their first choice, then randomly chooses the number of Guests from that list equal to the number of available pieces of that item. The chosen Guests are assigned the right to purchase one piece from item #1. If every Guest who has ranked item #1 as their first choice has been assigned the right to purchase that item, and there are still items remaining, the RSP process will gather all Guests that ranked item #1 as their second choice and randomly choose the number of those Guests equal to the number of remaining item #1s. Those chosen Guests will then be assigned the right to purchase item #1. When all of the pieces for item #1 have been assigned, the RSP process will conduct the same manner of assignment for item #2. The process continues in this manner through the Guests' choices and the available items until there are no longer Guests with stated choices or there are no longer any items available.

How many rounds will be run for the RSP?
Up to two RSP rounds will be run for this event to allow Guests the opportunity to purchase additional quantities if inventory is available.

What is the correct way to fill out my RSP Preference Sheet?
Each Guest should rank the number of the item the Guest wants to purchase most in the field for first choice (using the drop-down box shown below as an example), followed by the item the Guest wants to purchase second in the field for second choice, and so on.

Guests who are assigned the right to purchase an item may only purchase one of such item; multiple purchases of the same item based on one RSP round is not allowed. If a Guest is interested in purchasing more than one piece of the same item, the Guest can list such item on the Guest's second RSP preference lists. Such item would be available in any subsequent rounds of the RSP process ONLY IF that item has not been fully assigned to Guests in the previous round(s) of the RSP process.

RSP Preference Sheet

1st Choice	10. Disney Wish Keel Coin
2nd Choice	11. Inaugural Dooney Tote Bag
3rd Choice	07. Inaugural Loungefly Mini Backpack
4th Choice	02. Maiden Voyage Logo Pin
5th Choice
6th Choice
7th Choice
8th Choice

How should the RSP Preference Sheet be filled out to ensure I get my top picks?
There is no way a Guest can fill out the RSP Preference Sheet to guarantee that they will receive the right to purchase every item listed. The best results usually occur when the Guest decides what items they want to purchase most and ranks those towards the top of their list.

Why didn't I get my first choice?
The RSP results depend not only on the available quantity of an item, but also on the number of Guests that rank that item as the exact same preference. For example, if 200 Guests rank an item as the Guest's first choice, but there are only 25 pieces of that item, then 175 Guests will not receive the Guest's first choice. Guests who rank that item as the Guest's second choice or lower will not have a chance at receiving the opportunity to purchase such item.

If my first choice is not available, will the RSP system move the second choice up to become my first choice?
No, this will not impact the Guest's order of items. The Guest's preferences will always remain exactly as the Guest designates them on the RSP Preference Sheet.

Can I be assigned the right to purchase an item based on my second RSP preference list even if I did not receive the opportunity to purchase that item based on my first RSP preference list?
No. The system does not reserve quantities of any items for assignment in the second RSP round. Items are only available in the next RSP round if every Guest that asked for it in the prior round was assigned the right to purchase that item and there were still quantities of such item remaining. This is why we ask Guests not to list items in their second RSP preference list unless they are trying to be assigned the right to purchase multiples of that same item.

May I submit more than one RSP Preference Sheet?
No. However, the RSP Preference Sheet includes the ability to fill out preference lists for RSP rounds one and two. Guests may fill out preference lists for up to two RSP rounds, and there is no obligation to fill out any lists.

Why are only some items listed in the dropdowns for the 2nd RSP Round?
Some items are limited to one per Guest and others are limited to 2 per Guest. Only those items limited to 2 per Guest would be available in the 2nd RSP.

Why am I seeing a $1.00 RSP fee in the purchase?
The $1.00 fee(s) listed for RSP transactions will not be charged at any time. This fee is required to be listed to display the credit card collection fields.
