Thank you, and welcome my esteemed friends. As you may know, Strange Academy was founded to teach the next generation of mystic artists how to deal with the growing number of evil forces and increasing mystical chaos that threaten all time and existence.

Once we discovered that magical talent was abundant in the multiverse, we knew we had to create a place where that magical potential could be nurtured and developed. Abundant and powerful. As in the case of my newest student America Chavez, whose "verse-jumping" powers were greatly sought after for good...and evil.

Strange Academy students represent the brightest magical minds on the planet and from this Academy, we hope that many will be invited to further their education with YOU, in the many mystic and heroic societies throughout the multiverse. Today, you will be meeting a few of these graduates. Looking out there, I can see some representatives from S.H.I.E.L.D. Some scouts from Professor Xavier's School, and of course our faculty from the Kamar-Taj.

On behalf of the Strange Academy and myself, I welcome you all.
Now, let's get to it. Meet our top four students.
